AN OVERVIEW OF NIKE

1964: Phil Knight & Bill Bowerman founded Blue Ribbon Sports after a deal to distribute Onitsuka Tiger in the United States

1971: Blue Ribbon Sports split from Onitsuka and changes name to Nike

- Nike is the name of the Greek goddess of victory, representing everything Nike stands for
- Swooshed Logo
- One of the most recognized brands worldwide

1984: Sign the rookie Michael Jordan in hopes of popularizing their basketball shoes

- Two months after signing: Sold $70 million worth of Air Jordans

1985: Excess revenue of $100 million

- Changed the way that athletes and celebrities sign deals with brands
- Jumpman Logo

Acquired Converse Inc, Hurley International LLC

Subsidized Jordan Brand and Nike Golf

Nike became a brand for athletes, but also dancers, musicians, designers, and artists

Diversified products into apparel, accessories, sports equipment, and digital spaces

More than just athletic wear: It is a lifestyle

Footwear accounts for 66.87% of revenue

Apparel accounts for 29% of revenue

44% of Nike Revenue comes from North America

Generates 58% of revenue through wholesale and 42% through direct customer sales

Competitive Advantages: brand equity, premium pricing, R & D investments, and vast distribution network

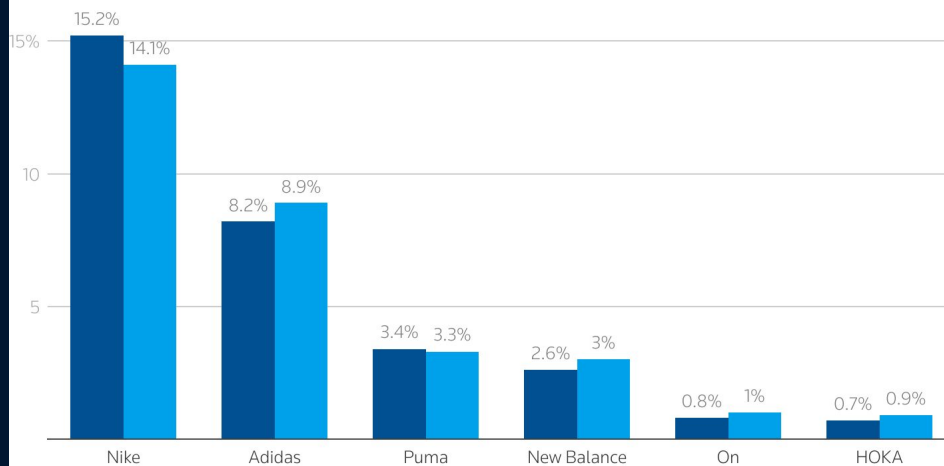

Disadvantages: dependence on international manufacturing, ethical labor concerns, improper supply chain and inventory management, higher pricing strategies, counterfeit products, and over-reliance on North American consumers

Adidas, New Balance, On and Hoka gain as Nike loses market share

Nike is still the biggest sportswear player but has seen sales slow

● 2023 market share ● 2024 market share

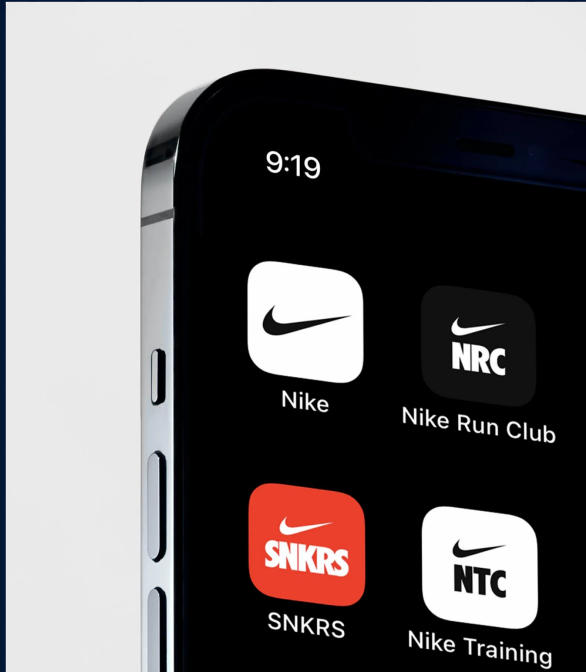

Note: Data shows percentage share of global sportswear market, including clothes, shoes, and accessories

MARKETING STRATEGY STATEMENT

Nike Sync:

"To position Nike as a leader in connected fitness technology by transforming Nike's already advanced athletic wear into a dynamic, data-driven, and socially connected experience through innovation, accessibility, and engagement."

OBJECTIVES

PRODUCT & LAUNCH

Beta in 1 year; full rollout in 2 years

MARKET & SALES

$150B revenue in 5 years;
20% annual Sync apparel growth.

DIGITAL ENGAGEMENT

+25% Nike app DAUs;
70% Sync user retention.

PARTNERSHIP & DEV.

Co-branded Meta + Ray Ban integration; Sync across 5 product lines by Year 3.

BRAND & GLOBAL GROWTH

Strengthen Nike's tech-driven image; expand global reach; integrate sustainability into all Sync hardware.

CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE

4.5/5 satisfaction; AI coaching; 98% hardware reliability with <5% returns.

BRANDING

Customers associate the Nike brand with high quality, accuracy, and durability

Nike Sync: catchy, memorable, and tells you everything you need to know about the product

Have athletes and celebrities who already work with Nike brand endorse product to help attract and retain customers

Partnerships with Meta or Apple

Ads will showcase people working out from anywhere: home, gym, office, in the city

Slogan: "See It. Fix It. Just Do It."

IMAGE & POSITIONING

Most technologically advanced product in exercise and athletic field

Each person's metabolic system is different and Nike Sync accounts for this

Easy to Use

Meant to improve their health with proper workout suggestions

TARGET MARKET

Primary: 26-41 year olds (Millennials)

- More inclined to be active
- Largest demographic of Nike's consumers
- More willing to pay for convenience & more willing to splurge on fitness products

280 million user * $99.99
≈ $28 billion

Secondary: 12-25 year olds (Gen Z)

- Young athletes and influencers
- Want to start forming habits to have active lifestyles
- Social media trends: willing to pay to test out a product or those endorsed by stars

Tertiary: 45-75 year olds (Gen X & Baby Boomers)

- Have more time on their hands with retirement
- Activity Theory: want to feel younger

SUSTAINABLE COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE

Highly tailored to each user: We want customers to get into shape in a healthy data-driven way

Provides personalized feedback rather than generic results and the best biomechanical and performance data

Injury prevention and makes sure user stays healthy with hydration reminders

Easy to use and seamless (no excessive obstructions or weight on any one part of body like smartwatches)

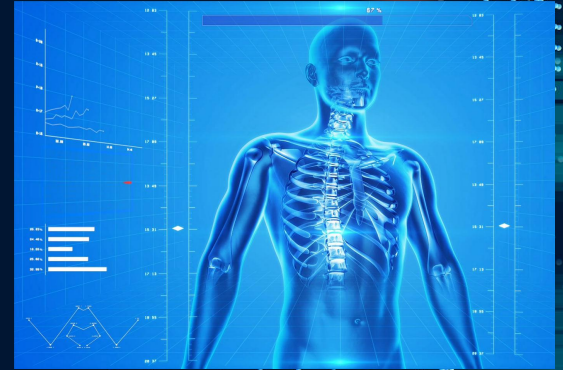

PRODUCT ISSUES

Legal Implications: Concerns over data collection

Platform Dependency: Too dependent on digital devices (IOS/Android)

Unknown Market (healthcare): First athletic company to traverse into the healthcare market

New Product Branch: If our product does not work, Nike Sync = complete sunk costs

DISTRIBUTION

Direct-to-Consumer

Approach: Sell directly in Nike retail stores and related sites (Nike.com, Nike apps)

Partner with

Wholesalers: Sell with wholesale partners to expand distribution channel

PRICING

Premium Pricing Strategy: High price to reflect high quality product

$99.99

$69.99

ADVERTISING AND PROMOTIONS

Advertisements: Billboards in public spaces, dynamic videos and posts on social media, popularize the hashtag #SyncedWithNike

Personalized Notifications & Offers: Send notifications and exclusive offers to Nike's user base

Promotions: Offer discounts on workout subscriptions, host challenges, implement a referral program, "Sync a Friend"

Partner with Influential Individuals in the Wellness Space: Testimonials from trusted, well-known athletes, reviewed by established tech publishers

E-COMMERCE

CONCLUSION

CONCLUSION

SEE IT. FIX IT. JUST DO IT.

Nike Sync begins as a chip that can be tried, grows into a platform that improves how individuals train, and ultimately becomes an ecosystem advantage that strengthens Nike's position in connected fitness.
